

Natural Horsemanship Clinic

with

Susan Jan Hornstein

Susan Jan has been a dressage and event rider over the last 30 years and has taught hundreds of students. She currently teaches and trains horses from her stables in Sebastopol, as well as giving regular clinics in the San Francisco Bay Area. She has a winning show career in dressage and eventing. Her students have shown successfully in the dressage, event, and hunter/jumper areas.

August 28th, 2010 at 1:00-4:30p.m.

About The Clinic

This clinic is appropriate for anyone interested in horses and wants to begin to learn about natural horsemanship. For the more experienced, this clinic will help those who want to become more sophisticated in their execution as well as develop advanced skills in observation and head off behaviors that could become major problems. Participants will all receive individual attention.

Clinic Participation Fee: $65 if paid by 8/20/10, $80 if paid after

Location: Icissima Farms, 11114 Falstaff Rd, Sebastopol, CA 95472

Well trained horse volunteers or youth 13 years and up in programs addressing their special needs can apply for a full clinic scholarship

To reserve your spot all participants (paid and scholarship) should sign up using online form at www.welltrainedhorses.com or call 707-829-3600 for additional information

Susan Jan's students say:

"My first experience with Susan Jan was as an adult beginner. She is extraordinarily insightful and sensitive to the unique challenges with which adult learners struggle. Her tenacity and dedication to my success and mastery of the skill and the fine art of classical riding have persisted to this day, 15 years later." Mary Fallon

"Thank you for the incredible experience you provided me with... I was treated to a tremendous lesson! You spent a huge amount of time with me, going over what I needed to understand. You worked me through my fears and concerns... Your support and encouragement were incredibly helpful and your energy and enthusiasm contagious. I learned more in that one lesson from you than in the 10 years previous!" Deborah Scherrer

"Susan was my horse trainer for many years; the riding skills I have today, as well as my humane understanding of horses and how to train them, came from her. Susan has the ability to work with people's confidence that is remarkable; many trainers can train horses, but do not have the people skills that Susan has, which is her biggest strength-she can work with both horse and rider, an unusual quality in her business. Her humanitarian instincts toward horses and their special needs is truly remarkable." -Susan Olk

